Shelter.

DAMAGE RUNS INTO MILLIONS

Black Population

Guard—Many Without Homes.

PROBE ORDERED

Tulsa, Oklahoma, June 2.—Tulsa's bloody race war ended here with 85 persons listed as dead, and several unconfirmed rumors of further deaths which will bring the mark close to 100. It includes 25 whites, killed in the battle with the negroes. Damage is estimated at between $1,500,000 and $4,000,000.

TULSA QUIET.

Tulsa, Okla., June 2.—Governor J. B. A. Robertson today ordered an official grand jury investigation of the race riot here yesterday. The probe will be in charge of Attorney General Freeling, and will fix the responsibility for the loss of nearly 100 lives and the destruction of the property of nearly 8000 blacks and 5000 whites.

The race hatred which flared up for nearly 24 hours yesterday in this great oil metropolis of the Southwest, resulting in almost 100 deaths and the destruction of property valued at $1,500,000 burned out today, and the whites, who yesterday fought a furious battle with the entire male population, centered their efforts today on finding homes for the negroes, whose dwellings went up in smoke when the torch was applied.

RUMORS UNFOUNDED

Although rumors flooded the city last night that negroes were congregating on the outskirts of the city preparing to make a massed drive to liberate those of their color held prisoners, an investigation by state troops proved this to be without foundation.

Negroes, who fled the town yesterday to save their lives, came crawling back today, telling pitiful stories of how they hid in the woods without clothes, food or water for two days. Farmers rounded up many of the fleeing negroes and brought them in to the detention camps here. Practically the entire negro population remaining in the city spent the night under guard. Men, women and children were herded together in public buildings. 4000 were in custody at the fair grounds.

MARTIAL LAW EFFECTIVE

The success of military law, which ended the riot, was apparent within a remarkable short time.

AMERICANS IN RUSSIA SAID TO BE IN DANGER

Washington, June 2.—The lives of more than a score of American citizens now in the hands of Russian Bolsheviks hinge on the efforts being made by Secretary of State Hughes to obtain their release. The State Department is understood to be working on several plans to get them out of the hands of the Bolsheviks alive.

RAILROADS NOW IN POSITION TO REDUCE RATES

Entire Matter In the Hands of Rail Officers—Big Saving
Makes Move Possible.

Washington, D. C., June 2.—The railroads are now in a position to slash freight rates and institute a bargain counter bidding for increased business, officials said today. Operating costs decreased $400,000,000 a year through the wage reduction order of the Railway Labor Board, handed down in Chicago yesterday, plus $100,000,000 reduction on coal purchases. The railroads are now face to face with the problem of letting the shipper and general public in on the situation.

Rates are now 70 per cent above the pre-war level. The whole matter is up to the roads, members of the Interstate Commerce Commission say. The roads can fix new and lower rates, effective in thirty days after notice, through filing of copies of the schedules with the commission, and within five days, providing the railroads and shippers can get together and sign an agreement. In this case the Interstate Commerce Commission makes special dispensation and the rates go into action at once. It is practically agreed that there will be no horizontal decrease.

McADOO MAKES STATEMENT

New York, June 2.—Railroad rates should be reduced at once, according to William McAdoo, former Director General of the Railroad Administration Board. "The present high freight and passenger rates were based, in a large measure, on the increasing wages to rail employees established in the summer of 1920," he said. Now that the Railroad Labor Board has ordered a large reduction in wages, prompt reduction in rates should follow. While the railroads should have a square deal it is essential that the general public, the laborer, farmer and shipper, have a square deal.

POLISH TROOPS ATTACK FRENCH SUPPLY TRAIN

Repulsed With Loss of Many Lives—Fierce Fighting Reported.

Oppeln, Upper Silesia, June 2.—Starving Polish insurgents have turned furiously upon friendly French soldiers. Many lives have been lost in skirmishing, according to reports received here today. The most furious fighting occurred at Kattowitz, where a French supply train was rushed by a mob of hungry Poles. The drivers of the trucks were pushed from their seats while the attackers looted the train. The French guards opened fire on the attackers, and the rioters immediately replied. Only after several lives had been lost did the looters withdraw.

President Makes Stirring Address to Naval Academy Graduating Class

Annapolis, June 2.—"I hope you will never be called upon to draw a sword or fire a gun," President Harding told the graduating class at the Annapolis Naval Academy here today. "I promise you that while I am President you'll never be called upon to fire a gun except when you do it with that American conscience of which you are so proud."

which you can answer to God and your fellow man." He spoke after presenting diplomas to 200 graduating midshipmen. "It has given me not only pleasure but an inspiration to come here today. I am far more than glad to greet this addition to the Navy."

THREE BRITISH SOLDIERS KILLED IN IRISH AMBUSH

Dublin, Ireland, June 2.—Three British soldiers lost their lives in a Sinn Fein ambush at County Carey last night. The troops were trapped and shot down without a chance to respond to the shots of the Sinn Feiners. A sergeant and two constables were killed, and two constables wounded.

30,000 GARMENT WORKERS RETURN TO THEIR JOBS

New York, June 2.—30,000 garment workers, who have been on strike since last December, were returning to work today, following a verbal agreement between representatives of the clothing workers and the manufacturers' associations. An agreement was to be drawn up later and signed, and is said to have included a 15 per cent wage cut for all workers except the cutters. Their pay will be determined by the class of work performed.

Denby's Aid

Captain David F. Sellers of Texas has been made naval aide to the secretary of the navy. He is also head of the sixth morale division of the navy.

MRS. ETHEL NOTT DRAWS LIFE TERM ON MURDER CHARGE

Bridgeport, Conn., June 2.—Mrs. Ethel Nott was today sentenced to life imprisonment for assisting Elwood Wade, her paragon, in the murder of her husband. Sentence was pronounced after the woman's counsel had entered a plea of guilty to a charge of murder in the second degree.

Sign of Real War

That there was real war in Upper Silesia between the Germans and Polish insurgents, is shown by this picture. The Germans had to rebuild this railroad bridge near Oppeln with logs after they had forced the Poles back.

WRECKED AUTOISTS GIVE HOUTZDALE AS THEIR HOME

Auto Spree Ends In
rested.

According to the Altoona newspapers, two men who gave their names as Jack Gallagher and Watts, claiming to have come from Houtzdale, were arrested near Juniata Gap Tuesday, as a grand finale to an automobile spree. The Altoona Mirror, in relating the incident, says: "Gallagher and Watts came down the mountain at a terrific clip in a Franklin roadster. When rounding the curve below the church just after crossing the culvert, the car skidded and went over the bank, turning completely over twice and throwing both occupants out. Fences, trees and shrubbery went down as the car made the mad dash from the road. In its flight the car was wrecked and that the occupants escaped uninjured is little short of a miracle."

"When Constable Koley arrived on the scene, there was considerable excitement and the residents of the action were highly indignant at the manner of the driver of the car, as a number of serious accidents were narrowly averted as the car sped down the valley. In the wrecked car the officers found a bottle of liquor and in the bushes nearby another bottle was found, evidently being thrown there by the men in an effort to keep evidence away."

"Following the arrest of the men, Constable Koley and Sergeant D. H. Austin of the state police visited the scene of the wreck and interviewed the people who witnessed the mad dash down the gap. Several persons and a number of autoists had narrow escapes and the names of these were secured as witnesses. This road has become a speedway and the people residing there have determined to break up the practice and have the assurance of the state officers that a determined stand will be taken to make the highway safe."

"Gallagher and Watt arranged for their release this forenoon and will be given a hearing in the near future."

SEEKS TO SECURE $210 FOR WAGES

Paul Vista, who ran a restaurant in DuBois for some time, was no doubt of the opinion, from his knowledge or lack of knowledge of the scriptures, that all the work of the Apostles was free and without hope of material reward. At least, according to complaint filed in Prothonotary Raiston's office Tuesday morning by John C. Arnold, Esq., Gust Apostol is of that opinion.

This Apostol was general handy man at the Vista restaurant and when he "dissolved," Vista owed him $210, he alleges, as wages. Attorney J. A. Gleason has $200 of Vista's money in his hands, following some legal process and the suit filed today is for the purpose of getting this money. Attorney Gleason being named as garnishee in the suit.

LOCAL WEATHER PROPHET EXPECTS ANOTHER FROST

Hurxthal W. Smith, of Locust street, is authority for the statement that on June 9, 1889, occurred the "great June frost" which played such havoc with gardens and grain fields throughout Clearfield County. Mr. Smith says that the present weather reminds him very much of the latter part of May and first of June, 1889, and he agrees with Weather Prophet Foster that are due for a big frost this week.

He also said that on the night of June 8, 1889, he placed on a web of muslin over his grapevines and saved them from the frost, but his garden stuff was ruined and he had to replant everything.

ANOTHER AMERICAN SLAIN IN MEXICO

Mexico City, Mexico, June 2.—Elmer Buchanan, an American, has been killed by Mexican bandits north of Tampico, and another American wounded, according to reports received here today. ## A LITTLE GIRL TUMBLES FROM HIGH BRIDGE

Curwensville Tot Falls
Thirty Feet to Ground
Below—Not Badly Hurt.

According to reports from Curwensville, received last night, a little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson, of Bloomingtown avenue, Curwensville, had a miraculous escape from death Tuesday evening when she fell from the swinging bridge to the rocks below, a distance of thirty feet.

The little tot, with several companions, had been playing on the bridge, when in some unaccountable manner she tripped and fell, rolling over the embankment, and landing on the river bank some thirty feet below. Her playmates instantly sounded an alarm, and nearby residents rushed to her rescue.

The little girl was hurriedly removed to her home, where it was found, luckily, that no bones were broken. However, her body was badly bruised and cut, and it is feared she also was internally injured. Last reports from her home were that she was resting easily.

THIRD ST. PAVING JOB PROGRESSING IN FINE SHAPE

The work of repaving Third street from Reed street to Bigler avenue is well under way, under the direction of Foreman R. D. Sheehy. When this block is completed Third street will be the widest and finest street in the town.

On account of the Pennsylvania station platform extending out into the center of the street, the driveway between the points named will be but 28½ feet between curbs, including the paving between the rails of the Pennsylvania tracks.

During the time the street is closed while the repairs are being made, travel will be forced to detour at the corner of Reed and Fourth streets around the Kurtz Factory and past the Clearfield Storage Company's building, onto Bigler avenue at the foot of the hill.

Dry Chief?

Is Believed She Will Get the Nomination Unopposed—Unanimous
Support Is Voiced
Throughout County.

The Progress is very much pleased to be able to state that the proposition advanced in this paper on Monday evening last, suggesting the election of Miss Gertrude Rumberger, of Houtzdale, to succeed her lately deceased father as County Treasurer of Clearfield county, has met with almost universal approval. From every section of the county has come commendation for the move from the workers and men high in the councils of the Republican party in the county. These men are heartily in accord with the idea that Amos Rumberger's family should reap the benefit his success at the polls two years ago entitled them to, and which they need, even though the unforeseen occurred and this worthy, good citizen was called to his reward, with his task unfinished. This idea is buttressed by precedent in every similar occurrence in the history of the county and this section of the state, and Clearfield county Republicans are not ungrateful.

It is only fair to say that the proposition to advance Miss Rumberger to carry out the unfulfilled task or obligation of her father, is not original with and the individual project of this newspaper, because the proposal in Monday evening's Progress was simply expressing on the printed page what was in the minds and heart and upon the lips of every resident of Clearfield county, regardless of party, who was at all familiar with the circumstances and situation.

Since Monday friends have gotten into communication with Miss Gertrude Rumberger, and the young lady has consented to allow her name to be used and become a candidate for the office of County Treasurer of Clearfield county at the Republican party primary in September.

We again reiterate what is generally being said, Miss Rumberger should be given that nomination unopposed, and this newspaper will support the every effort of her friends and the loyal friends of the late Amos Rumberger, in seeking to make her success possible. We feel it a duty we owe our deceased loyal fellow Republican.

P. T. Davis Appointed.
Governor Sproul yesterday made the appointment of P. T. Davis, Treasurer of the Clearfield Trust Company, as County Treasurer of Clearfield county to succeed Amos Rumberger, deceased.

Mr. Davis will serve until January 1, 1922, and in accordance with the arrangement made when the matter of such service was put up to him, the financial returns from the office during his incumbency will go to the family of the deceased County Treasurer.

POST GETS ARTISTIC RANGE

Chicago Organization Acquires Use of Famous World's Fair Field Museum Building.

The American Legion will soon have the use of a building known to millions in America as the embodiment of beauty in art and architecture, the old Fine Arts building of the 1893 World's Fair. The crack of army rifles will be heard in the famous structure, for it has been turned over to the Hyde Park post, No. 34, of the Legion in Chicago, as an indoor rifle range.

The large edifice, known as the old Field museum after the World's fair, was evacuated with the completion of the new Field museum. Various organizations of Chicago immediately besieged the park commissioners for permission to use the building, but the Legion post's request alone was granted.

Legionnaires now have a rifle range de luxe, one that will tend to erase the veteran's memories of sweltering days, shivering days and cold, moist days spent in trying to locate the bulwark on the army's outdoor firing points. The building is so large that a 200-yard range was established without difficulty, along with the shorter distances.

GETS MONEY FOR W. A. A. L.

Hungry Rooster Proves Gold Mine for Woman's Organization in Kansas.

How many grains of corn will a terribly hungry rooster eat after he has missed his meals for five hours? The Plymouth Rock in the photograph tucked away 283 grains in record time and made $283 for the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion in Cimarron, Kan.

The bird was placed in a show window on the main street in the Kansas town. For five hours he scratched and crowed for provender, which was not forthcoming. Then 1,000 grains of tempting yellow corn were spread before him. Guesses as to how many grains of corn it would take to assuage his hunger were sold at ten cents each. In three hours Mr. Rock had gulped 283 kernels of Kansas corn and retired for the night. Then he was sold twice, given back to the women, and was finally auctioned off. In all, he netted $328, a fraction more than $1.15 for every grain of corn he ate.

Mrs. Lelah L. Klein, national executive committee woman from the Kansas department of the Auxiliary, handled the contest. One of the most active workers for the Auxiliary in her state, Mrs. Klein was educated in Wellesley college and in the New England Conservatory of Music. Her husband, who was a captain in the medical corps, was gassed in the Ar gouste-Meuse offensive.

Miss Margaret Sousa, Daughter of Famous Bandmaster, Acquires New Title.

Miss Margaret Sousa, daughter of John Philip Sousa, famous band director, has acquired a new title. She is known as the "American Legion Girl" because of her starring in a Legion motion picture, "Lest We Forget," a film depicting the struggles of disabled veterans to obtain justice and unemployment conditions among those who escaped injury in the World war.

ANTI-GAMBLING GAME INJUNCTION NOW PERMANENT

The preliminary injunction granted by Judge Bell on Tuesday morning last at the application of District Attorney for the purpose of restraining the operation of the gambling devices at the Johnny Jones carnival in DuBois, was made returnable at 9 o'clock this morning.

At that time Messrs. L. E. Boyer, of DuBois, and Miller & Hartwick, appeared for the Carnival management and agreed with the District Attorney that the injunction should be made permanent. The Court thereupon directed that the same be done.

The carnival or legitimate shows of Johnny Jones were not interfered with and have been operating and will be operated the remainder of the week, the prohibition in the injunction only applying to the gambling devices.

This court action will undoubtedly establish a precedent which will forever protect Clearfield county from these traveling carnivals which have been the cause of so much increase in the criminal business of the county the past few days.

PUBLISHERS AND ENGRAVERS CONFER

New York, June 2.—New York newspaper publishers were today invited to a conference by officials of the photo-engravers' union, which struck yesterday when demands for a wage increase were refused. It is expected an early and satisfactory agreement will be decided upon.

WILD CATS' DEFY TO CURWENSVILLE IS UNANSWERED

The resourceful Curwensvillian "fenced" about the proposition very dexterously, and ended by saying "Just you wait." "Oh, Lord, how long?"

HE BELIEVES IT SAVED HIS LIFE

Callahan Tells of Astonishing Change in Him Since He Began Taking Tanlac.

"Before I took Tanlac the very sight of food made me sick and I was actually starving in the midst of plenty," said Edwin Callahan, living at 350 North 55th St., Philadelphia, conductor on the Philadelphia Rapid Transit, Callowhill Barn.

"I wish I could express the gratitude I really feel toward Tanlac, for I honestly believe it saved my life. Two years ago when I got Tanlac I was suffering with one of the worst cases of stomach trouble I reckon a man ever had. Why, I couldn't even eat the lightest food, but what the gas would form and almost cut off my breath and make my heart race like a motor. At times I had dreadful spells of dizziness and awful pains in the head. The running of my car made my nerves quiver, and I was so restless I scarcely ever slept, but would get up in the mornings feeling dull and lousy and go to work feeling about as bad as a man could.

"A friend of mine who rid himself of a bad case of stomach trouble by taking Tanlac, kept urging me to try it. From the very first the medicine helped me. A few days later I caught the 'flu' but was so much stronger I only stayed in bed three days and my recovery was rapid. My appetite returned, all my pains began to leave and it wasn't long until I didn't have a sign of indigestion. My sleep became regular and sound and I got up mornings feeling refreshed and went to work just bristling with new life and energy. Since then I have always been in the best of health and it is all due to Tanlac."

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

"By Skinny"

During the first year of prohibition only five and one-half million gal. of whisky were sold legally while but nine million barrels of beer got into the alimentary canals of the thirsty generally in Uncle Sam's domain, together with twenty-five million gallons of alcohol, as the result of legitimate transfer during the same period. That's not so dry for a nation of one hundred and five million people. Yet on the other hand these same people got away with eighty-nine million gallons of whisky, sixty million barrels of beer and twenty-two million gallons of drinking alcohol during the year preceding the dry law.

The Reverend H. M. Warren, president of the Free-A-Life-League, an organization for increasing, especially among children, in 1920 a thousand more of themselves than in 1919. Of twelve thousand suicides, 707 were children, five to sixteen years old. Farmers' wives and "four hundred soldiers returned from service" are among the suicides. One lady killed herself because her husband refused to cut a tie she made. That was probably the last straw.

Prohibition is charged with having sent the nation's "servants" consumption up to more than one billion dollars per year. The census reports just issued indicate that more than three-quarters of a billion of dollars were spent for candy and ice cream alone last year.

There is always something the matter with Kansas. A Kansas tax recently passed states that when two trains meet at a crossing "each must stop, whistle and wait till the other gets by."

Statistics show that the average man who lives to be seventy years old will spend his life as follows: Sleeping ..... 25 years
Work ..... 19 years
Recreation ..... 10 years
Eating and drinking ..... 6 years
Traveling ..... 6 years

Illness ..... 4 years
Dressing ..... 2 years

Chairman Good of the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives at Washington, is authority for the statement that the running of this government during 1920 cost every man, woman and child in the United States $61.88.

"The total annual cost of administering the government under Jefferson," he said, "was $1.52 per capita; in 1860, $2.58 per capita; during the four years of Civil War, $25 per capita; 1892-1891, $5.50 per capita; 1916, $10.11 per capita; 1918 and 1919, $115.07, and for 1920 the cost to administer all the departments of the government was $61.88 for every person in the United States. The mere suggestion of this enormous growth in government expenditures calls for hard thinking and plain speaking on a question that virtually affects the Nation's pocketbook."

"The interest on our national debt is almost $1,000,000,000 a year, which is $250,000,000 more than the total cost of administering the National Government in 1907. Expenditures next year will aggregate $2,900,000,000 more than for the fiscal year of 1916. This increase is due almost wholly to our participation in the war and the increased cost of our military and naval establishments."

The paper hat for women who like to change the style of their headgear frequently, has arrived from Paris and is now being given the once over by those interested in separating ladyhood from hubby's cash for millinery bills. The new hats are both chic and cheap. Speed the day of their approach.

Attorneys practicing in Florida would be limited to an annual net income of $4,000, under a bill introduced in the Florida Senate. All compensation or fees in excess of that amount would be delivered to the State Comptroller for apportionment among the counties of the State for advertising and charitable purposes. Why not such a law in Pennsylvania? Answer: Too dan many lawyers making the laws.

The fire loss throughout the United States last year reached the enormous total of $500,000,000 during 1920. The sad part of this waste is that the Underwriters' Association has authority for the statement that more than half of these fires could have been prevented. Last year's loss was the greatest in the history of the country, with the exception of the year of the San Francisco earthquake.

Reduce Those Dangerous Swollen Veins

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful germicide, that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and bunches to become normal, but also reduces goiter, enlarged glands and wens.

Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore, if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded.

It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directions advise and improvement will begin at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y. Your druggist can supply you.

Most People Friendly.
Nobody will do as much for you as you will do yourself, but lots of people will do more to get it for you than you will do for yourself.

Open Air Shave in China

If you go to China, be prepared for an open air haircut. This barber shop is set up along the curb. When a "victim" appears, an apprentice starts on him with a sand-soap shampoo. The owner finishes with a razor resembling a miniature meat ax.

THE RAILROAD LABOR SLASH.

Now that the wage reduction in all classes of railroad labor has been ordered by the railroad labor board, in session at Chicago, it remains to be seen with what attitude the workers accept its decision. The cut is not as great as the rail executives had hoped. That they admit. They hoped against hope that the reduction would wipe out the full amount of last year's increases, some $600,000,000. Only two-thirds of this amount was cleared away from their ledgers for the coming year, and yet they refuse to commit themselves on the matter of rail rate reductions.

Certainly they have anticipated the present result, and it appears as if they have no desire to tackle the rate reduction problems until they are forced to it.

The railworkers, it is believed, will accept the slash, which is, at that, below the one meted out to their co-workers, the steel plant employees. However, it is a recognized fact that the latter are not as strongly organized as the railway employees, and the Railmen may take some immediate action to bring about a reduction of freight rates.

Those with their fingers on the financial pulse of the nation readily realize that the mere lowering of railroad labor wages will not bring about peace and prosperity, and a return to normal industrial relations, although the move is hailed as a forerunner of the comeback. Before this country is once again on a normal industrial basis, some of the high freight rates will have to be reduced. Shoppers and manufacturers induced to release from storage a great amount of their merchandise.

FOREST FIRES.

According to statistics of the United States department of agriculture, forest fires annually destroy more than two billion feet of timber throughout the United States. Two million feet—just think of it—more than enough material to build a five-room house every 100 feet on both sides of the road between New York and Chicago. And this destruction can, for the greatest part, be laid down to carelessness.

Not only can this loss of timber be measured in momentary terms, but in generations to come, will be regarded as a body blow to the welfare of the nation. This country's forests are rapidly becoming depleted of their once plentiful stocks of timber. Something must be done to save them from almost complete annihilation, and the state of Pennsylvania is among those in the front ranks standing for forest conservation.

Recently a practical lumberman, one who differs materially from the old school, whose every thought was to get the timber regardless of the consequences, took a party of local newspapermen through a small portion of his holdings. He pointed out, here and there, as he went, the value of forestry work—and, according to his views, which it must be admitted were sound, he had not suffered nor seems likely to suffer a momentary loss through his foresightedness. He showed the journalists just how he took out his trees to insure best results, and spoke at length on the value of one thing alone, forest fire prevention.

It was easy for him to give a practical demonstration of his theories by pointing to one mountain side, thickly covered with good sized timber, which, he explained, had not been touched by fire, although cut over some 25 years ago. In contrast he turned to another, where fire had swept from crest to crest, and that within recent years. The sight spoke volumes for itself.

Forest protection goes hand in hand with national prosperity. Next to food and clothing, wood is the most indispensable product of nature. Without wood there can be no agriculture, no manufacture, no commerce. Forest fires destroy life and property, impoverish the soil, drive away animal life, cause floods and drought, and make waste the playgrounds of the people. They must be prevented.

Practice Foresight.

Taking things as they come may avoid some trouble, but shying things that are coming will avoid less. To the man who anticipates and exercises his best judgment there is no question that foresight pays better dividends than hindsight.

Arranging Flowers.

If in arranging flowers in a vase you find some stems that are contrary and refuse to bend in the way you desire, try massaging them for a few moments. This will make them supple and they will stay where they are placed.

"IZZY" HOFFMAN GETS PLAYERS FOR THE SEASON

Local Lads Will Have Chance To Show Speed.

Early summer training for the Clearfield baseball banner defenders has already started, according to the latest dope from Manager "Izzy" Hoffman, who is now busy scouring the sticks for players to represent Clearfield on the diamond this season. Many of his men are now playing on various teams. He has been successful in rounding up some of the athletes who will sharpen their spikes on the local field, and recently gave out a partial list of his selections. It includes:

Algie, catcher from the Blue Ridge League, and former semi-pro from Philadelphia. He is now with the Strawbridge and Clothier League. Jennis, second sacker, who was with the Bradford, Pa., club in the Interstate League and the Canadian League. Jennis also spent two years with Uncle Sam and is full of the fighting stuff. Last season he was with the Bradford and Franklin clubs.

Seigle, outfielder, is a youngster "Izzy" secured from Connie Mack's scouts, who picked him up. He is now playing in Easton, Pa.

Robinger, outfielder, was formerly in the Interstate League and with Rochester in the International League. Last season he was with the Elcos.

Alexander, McDonald, Fauver and Robinson are also numbered among players now on Hoffman's list, with several others also in view.

Local Lads To Have Chance
Manager Hoffman, in a recent letter, expressed the hope that any of the local ball players who thought they had enough stuff to stick in fast company would don their uniforms and show up on the grounds on the morning of the 13th, when practice will start here. Manager "Izzy" expects to arrive here from his scouting trip, which is now in full swing, before that time, and will be only too glad to give any of the local players who want a tackle it, a chance to make good.

Mine Rescue Car Will be at Glen Richey on June 12th for Six Days

Washington, D. C. June 1.—Mine Rescue Car No. 3, of the United States Bureau of Mines, in charge of Foreman Miner J. V. Berry, will reach Glen Richey, Pa., June 5. The car will be on exhibition every day from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. until June 11, and free lectures will be given to miners on first aid to the injured, the use of mine-rescue apparatus and safety lamps, mine gases and life and dangerous mining practices.

On June 12, the car will go to Glen Richey, Pa., to remain until June 18.

This mine rescue car is one of the eleven now in use by the Bureau of Mines for training miners in first aid and rescue methods and the use of mine rescue or oxygen breathing apparatus. The car has a crew that includes two experienced miners, and is equipped with the latest rescue and first aid apparatus and supplies. At a moment's notice the car is ready to proceed to the scene of a mine disaster, where the bureau men co-operate with the state mining inspectors and mine officials to do everything possible to assist or save miners who may have been injured or entombed.

The saving of human life, decreasing the number of injuries to the miner, and lessening the sufferings of injured miners are the central features of the bureau's work.

Miners are taught how to use rescue apparatus and how to take care of an injured comrade. The lectures, when possible, are illustrated by lantern slides and moving pictures, which show good and bad methods of mining and how many accidents may be easily prevented. These lectures are given in the car when a suitable meeting place cannot be procured elsewhere, but lantern slides and moving pictures cannot be shown in the car.

Each car carries oxygen breathing apparatus, a supply of oxygen in cylinders, safety lamps, and the charts, splints and bandages for demonstrating first aid methods. Some of the training with rescue apparatus will be inside the mines, also in smoke or fumes so the wearer will understand the apparatus and how to use it. A miner, when properly trained and wearing the apparatus, can enter a mine after a mine fire or an explosion and work in poisonous atmosphere for two hours.

Free instruction and training in methods of first aid to the injured are also given by crews of the rescue cars and stations, and this instruction is given either in connection with rescue apparatus training or entirely separately, hence is applicable not only to underground workers but to all those employed in or around the mines and metallurgical establishment.

Soil Building

(National Crop Improvement Service.)
THE methods of farming generally practiced do not maintain the fertility of the soil and the practices which have been largely responsible for the decreased productivity are:

(1) Erosion or the washing away of the surface soil; (2) the depletion of organic matter of the soil; (3) lack of a rotation or growing the same crop continuously; (4) the failure to grow a sufficient acreage of leguminous crops to maintain the nitrogen content; (5) the depletion of the supply of mineral elements of plant food, says Prof. L. E. Call in Kansas bulletin (No. 220), prepared by himself and Prof. Throckmorton.

A great deal of valuable information is given on how to overcome these difficulties by the use of proper rotations, the restoring of the straw to the land, green manuring, barnyard manure and the use of commercial fertilizers.

Professor Call is of the opinion that commercial fertilizer should be used only when necessary to supply an element of plant food that is deficient in the soil. Potassium is present in Kansas soils in liberal quantities, he says, and may be seldom supplied in commercial form with profit. Nitrogen may be secured from air by the use of leguminous plants. Phosphorus is the one element which is deficient in the soil and for which there is no ready source of supply.

Phosphorus in the form of steamed bone-meal or acid phosphate will generally repay the expense in a materially increased crop. Any powdered fertilizer may be applied to the surface by the use of a perforated drum, as shown in the illustration.

Lime, where the soil is sour, can be profitably added in a like manner.

Popular Musical Festivals

(National Crop Improvement Service.)

ANY community movement music is a factor of prime importance. It has been said that if a people will learn to sing together, that their community problems will be easy to solve. It is much more difficult, says the mayor of Dallas, "to get a people united on what they want to do than it is to do the thing which they have decided they want."

Mayor F. W. Wozencraft of Dallas, Tex., is an ardent devotee of music. He established the Dallas music commission, the first organization of its kind in the country. At the National Music Trades convention in Chicago in May, he will be prepared to establish his claim that music is one of the foundations of civic organization.

It is his idea that nothing of a public nature should be conducted without music and advocates that a public music commission shall be appointed in each community, to take care of the music in the parks, outdoor popular singing, organization of orchestras and choral societies, to better music in the schools and have music of a constructive nature in the moving picture theaters.

"Good music," says he, "will make a self-respecting community, while the clash and clamor of nothing but jazz will ruin the mental attitude of a people."

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

Mrs. R. G. Bilger was taken suddenly ill on Monday evening while eating supper and her condition became so serious that she has been confined to her room and under the care of a physician since that time.

The members of Bethesda Lodge No. 821, I. O. O. The exercises will be held in their lodge room on Tuesday, June 14th.

The guarantors for the Community Chautauqua met in session in a room at the High School building Tuesday evening. The advance man for this entertainment, which will extend a full week, met with the guarantors and explained many points and advantages to be derived by the people of any community by attending a full week's course of the kind of entertainment and instruction furnished by the Community Chautauqua this season. The amount asked by this company to visit Curwensville was provided for by the guarantors, and now nothing is lacking but to get the populace sufficiently interested financially so that the burden will not fall so heavily upon the individual guarantor. The different entertainments that will be provided each evening will be worth more than the price of admission asked everytime.

Mr. and Mrs. Crownover and sons, and Mrs. Merritt Caldwell motored to Blandburg, Centre county, yesterday in order to visit a brother of the two ladies mentioned, Dr. Gearhart.

Father Croyle, of Crown, has been transferred to the Grampian charge. By the removal of Father Fitzpatrick the members of his denomination lose an able man and a friend. Since his sojourn in Grampian he has made many improvements to church property and also brought about a much better fraternal feeling among his flock. Grampian people at large were sorry to see him depart from their midst, but with him great success in his new field.

The County Commissioners have appointed A. G. Woodward, of the Second Ward, tax collector for this borough for the year 1921. Mr. W. Thompson refusing to lift the duplicate and tendering his resignation, but will still continue to collect the taxes yet unpaid on duplicates in his hands. Failing health was the reason that Mr. Thompson refused to lift this year's duplicate. He has been tax collector in this borough for a good many years, and retires from that duty having more friends than any other of his predecessors. The new appointee will, no doubt, make a good officer, as he has been tried in other minor borough offices and no found wanting, so far as performance of his full duty is concerned.

Mr. Miles Fullerton, who for a number of years was caretaker of the Moose room, but for a year or more has resided in Pittsburgh, was with Curwensville relatives all week.

Mr. Enos Bloom and wife, who spent the winter with the family of Dr. and Mrs. Erhard, but removed to Some miscreant not having a fear of receiving a load of shot in his anatomy where it would be effective, entered the cellar at the home of William Holden the other night. What he was looking for is hard to determine as nothing was disturbed that the householder could find. Quite a number of porch refrigerators have been robbed lately, the thieving being done mostly on Saturday night.

Councilman Boyd Thompson, a prominent citizen of Portage, Cambria county, although born and raised in Curwensville, dropped in to town Monday and was the guest of his sister Mrs. Harry Brown. William Thompson, a brother, and engaged in the clothing business in Patton, was also a town visitor on Monday.

Mr. Calvin Bilger, one of the progressive farmers of Bloom township, is stopping at the home of his son, Harry Bilger for several weeks. He has not been in good health for some month and his physicians ordered a period of rest and quiet for him.

Curwensville people will be given opportunity to witness a next Monday and Tuesday evening one of the best amateur shows ever given in the old town. The entertainment will consist of a three act farce comedy entitled "It Pays to Advertise."

It will be presented under the capable direction of Fred P. Robinson, the George Conan of the village, and will be participated in by twelve of Curwensville's leading amateur thespians.

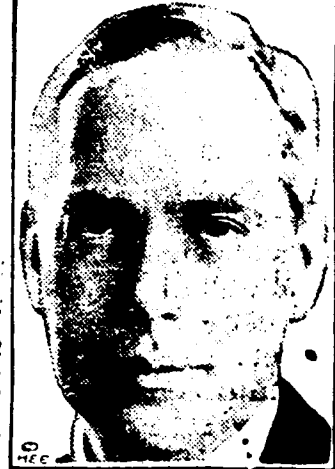

Great preparations are being made for the double showing and a show of real class will be given.

The play is being presented for the benefit of Joshua Sipes Post, of the American Legion and aside from the worthy object deserves patronage on account of its real worth.

THROUGH the Ages, from days Primitive to days Modern, from the quaint, quiet lassies of the Colonial fireside to the dazzling elite of the 1921 ballroom, the light that lies, in woman's eyes, has showered its mystery-rays into the very Heart of Mankind.

Happiness, Sorrow, Success, Failure---even the tolerance or intolerance of a Nation itself---bow before the light that lies, in woman's eyes, and lies, and lies, and lies.

Then speak the lips, and in the reckoning which follows, there is revealed a mighty drama of Life and Love; a story of one woman and two men, trapped in the net of circumstances, forever struggling for the right to rule their Souls.

COMMENTS ON LATEST SCREEN PRODUCTIONS

By CHARLES BEAHAN

"QUEEN OF SHEBA"—Fox

By CHARLES BEAHAN

Rather stupid spectacle, recounting in a laborious manner the love affairs of the unhappy Queen of Sheba and her many admirers, including King Solomon. Betty Blythe, as Sheba, finds many admirers in the audience, too; but the new crop of censors may work disaster with her Highness "if she don't watch out." We were disappointed when we failed to see Solomon's seven hundred wives, but a chariot race, thrilling and wonderfully well done, made up for it.

"DREAM STREET"—Griffith

By CHARLES BEAHAN

Another Griffith, beautifully produced, perfect in detail, and enacted by a superb cast, among whom we find worthy to praise are Carl Dempster, Ralph Graves, Charles Emmet Mack and Ed. Peil. And yet, considering D. W.'s previous masterpieces, "Dream Street" is "just another Griffith."

"THRU' THE BACK DOOR"—United Artists

"Our Mary's" latest picture is a joy for the first two reels. After that, in the vernacular of the street, it "falls flat." Enter the stereotyped movie manikins of society and the picture becomes downright dull. It tells the story of a little Belgian who comes to America "thru the back door," Ellis Island, and works as a maid in her fashionable mother's home, subsequently winning everyone with her polyanic virtues, etc., etc. The photography is superb.

"BOB HAMPTON OF PLACER"—First National

By CHARLES BEAHAN

Marshall Neilan has spent a lot of money on this production, but he has not achieved much beyond a superabundance of Indian fights, beautiful "shots" and a total lack of good drama. Neilan possesses a "camera eye," but he sacrifices everything else to achieve notable photography. A part, "written in" for Wesley Barry, fails to convince. The cast includes: James Kirkwood, Marjorie Daw and Pat O'Malley. The story was adapted from a novel by Randall Parrish, in which Custer's famous last stand is one of the main incidents.

"DECEPTION"—Paramount

By CHARLES BEAHAN

If Germany produced many more films like "Deception," American producers are going to find cause for concern, for "Deception" is perhaps the greatest historical film ever produced. Not as a spectacular production, perhaps, but as good, solid, dramatic entertainment. It depicts, in a vivid manner, the affairs of the much-married Henry VIII, and his many wives, among whom was the unhappy Anne Boleyn. All honors go to Emil Lubitch, who has not only directed the picture in admirable fashion, but has also given a true portrait of the gaudy monarch.

"GYPSY BLOOD"—First National

By CHARLES BEAHAN

It is a very real and very vivid Carmen that Pola Negri contributes to the silversheet. Pola, by the way, is the Polish actress who scored such a hit in "Passion." As Mme. Negri depicts her, Carmen is a fascinating, wanton, and not the perfumed cigarette girl as we have been wont to believe. For our part, we prefer Pola's Carmen. Her acting is quite wonderful. Scarcely less notable are her settings, so detailed and so fraught with atmosphere that one imagines himself really in old Seville.

Uncle Walt's Story

MATCHMAKING

"NOW that Miss Favorite is coming to spend a few days with us, I think I'll invite Charles Augustus Terwilliger to dinner," said Mrs. Jamesworthy. "I have always thought they were intended for each other, and they should be better acquainted."

"I never could understand why married women are always matching up the young people of their acquaintance," remarked Jamesworthy. "Most wives insist—at least to their husbands—that matrimony is a pronounced failure."

Every time you see an old maid you turn green with envy, and you have told me a million times that a woman sacrifices her liberty and independence the minute she inveigles a man to the altar, and vows to love, cherish and protect him. You have said in my presence that the spinster is the only woman who is her own boss.

"It doesn't take the ingenuity of a Sherlock Holmes to deduce from your remarks that you consider matrimony a total loss. Why, then, Mrs. Jamesworthy, are you forever trying to beguile your friends into that condition of misery? Of course, you can't explain; neither can any woman explain. Matchmaking just comes natural to all of you."

"When I am looking for all kinds of plain and fancy trouble, I'll begin matching up the young men and women of my acquaintance. But not until I am suffering for an invoice of grief. I might persuade my friends to invest in a western silver mine, or buy patent rights in a revolving churn, but you'll never see Elijah Jamesworthy boosting matrimony in your indiscriminate way. If two young people got married through your ring generalship, and they found that each had drawn a gold brick, they would hate you as long as they lived, and would always speak of you as an old busybody with a nose too long for legitimate purposes, and they'd make faces at you whenever you met them on the street."

"Do you ever think of your responsibility when you try to boom the orange blossom market? Does it ever occur to you, at such times, that you are rushing in where angels fear to tread?"

"Now, just consider Sarah Jane Favorite and Charles Augustus Terwilliger, who will be railroaded to the altar if you have your way. I admit that they make a handsome pair. Sarah is a blonde with a pug nose, and Charles Augustus is a brunette with a nose like a Roman senator. They afford a pleasing contrast. But appearances count for little, Mrs. Jamesworthy, when the real business of married life begins."

"Sarah has basked in the lap of luxury all her days, and she has the idea that money grows on vines like cucumbers. I don't suppose she ever knew what it means to need fifty cents or a dollar. When she wants anything she goes to the store and gets it, and has it charged to her father. If there is one word in the dictionary she isn't familiar with, that word is retrenchment."

"Charles Augustus on the other hand, had hard sledding all through his boyhood. As a result of his experience he has an exaggerated idea of the value of a kopeck. He is the sort of man who will walk eight miles through a thunderstorm rather than cough up carfare. Whenever he parts with a nickel he has to take a bromo-seltzer to steady his nerves. His reverence for money increases every day, and it will keep on increasing as long as he lives."

"Yet you, Mrs. Jamesworthy, in your feeble-minded matchmaking enthusiasm, would use your vote and influence to join these two people in the holy bonds. Just take the advice of your awaybacked husband, and let such people work out their own destinies, and everybody concerned will be happier."

Takes Sail Behind Halibut.

Current Business Conditions

By GEORGE E. ROBERTS

(From the Monthly Letter Issued by The National City Bank of New York for June)

A GLANCE AT THE BUSINESS SITUATION

INTERNATIONAL SITUATION—Substantial basis for improvement afforded by German reparations agreement. British coal strike still unsettled but radical developments checked.

GENERAL INDUSTRIAL POSITION—Continues uneven and without marked change. Industries making goods of domestic consumption such as clothing and shoes are having moderate revival, owing to depleted stocks.

WAGES—Reflect steady downward trend. Reduction of 30 per cent by Steel Corporation and downward revision of wage scale by Railroad Labor Board will promote industrial recovery.

WHEAT—Lowered estimate of winter crop and sustained export have strengthened market. Carry-over reduced.

LIVE STOCK—Markets steady during May. Cattle and sheep in fair demand while hogs hold above parity with corn prices.

COTTON AND TEXTILES—Consumption of raw cotton in U. S. during April dropped 2 1/2% from that of April, 1920. Demand for textiles and raw wool slightly improved.

IRON AND STEEL—Production at lowest ebb in many years. Industry waiting on better net revenues for railroads and revival of construction.

BUILDING—High cost of operations blocks pressing need for construction. Building permits in 201 cities for April show drop of 24% from same month of 1920.

AUTOMOBILES—Demand has sagged since April, especially in agricultural districts.

MONEY—Rates easing slightly as credit strain is gradually relieved. Federal Reserve Banks in various districts reduce bank rates from 1/4 to 1 per cent.

but their deposits were not replenished as before. Their debts did not shrink with the value of their products, and the prices of goods which they purchased did not shrink in the same proportion. Probably there is as much money in the community as before, but how the banking system of the money is only small change; the buying power, or debt-paying power has diminished, and the common form of expression is that "money is tight." What it really signifies is that the means of making payments are hard to find. The agricultural districts have suffered more than industrial districts because their products have fallen more than manufactured goods; moreover they do not have the amount of fixed income from savings that some of the older states have. Their outstanding indebtedness usually runs to other parts of the country, and as their operations slowed down, they paid off their bank loans, and the money grows tight. Philadelphia and Cleveland reserve banks began to lend to the reserve banks of Chicago, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Dallas, Atlanta and Richmond, all of the latter serving districts in which agricultural interests predominated. This shows the country is interlocked and mutually supporting, to the advantage of all industries and all sections. It is not so much present speculation and extravagance that is contributing to tight money as past indulgences which had to do with creating the indebtedness now outstanding. It is the debts so greatly increased in boom times that make money tight when prices fall. The trouble is largely due to the unbalanced state of industry. The prices of what the farmer must buy have not fallen to correspond with the prices of what he has to sell. His purchasing power is contracted and he cannot go on buying the same quantity of goods at the old prices. Consequently great numbers of workmen are out of employment in the industrial centers, paid off their bank loans, and the money grows tight.
